

GATSCHET A. S., 1890b. — The Klamath Indians of Southwestern Oregon. U.S. Geographic and Geological Survey of the Rocky Mountain Region, Contributions to North American Ethnology, 2.

GATSCHET A. S., 1877-1892. — Miscellaneous papers and notes collected from the Klamath and Modoc tribes. Bureau of American Ethnology documents 610, 1995, 2019, 2849, 2975, 3686, 3990. Smithsonian Institution, Washington D. C.

HANN D., KEYSER J. D. & MINTHORN CASH-CASH Ph., 2007. — Columbia Plateau Rock Art: A Window into the Spirit World. In Press, Oregon Archaeological Society, Collected Papers on Rock Art, Mike Taylor, Ed. Portland, Oregon.

HANN D. & BETTLES G., 2006. — House of the Rising Sun: Using the Ethnographic Record to Illuminate Aspects of Klamath Basin Rock Art. In Talking With the Past: The Ethnography of Rock Art, James D. Keyser, George R. Poetschat and Michael W. Taylor, editors. Maverick Press, Bend, Oregon.

KEYSER J. D., 1992. — Indian Rock Art of the Columbia Plateau. University of Washington Press, Seattle.

KEYSER J. D. & KLASSEN M. A., 2001. — Plains Indian Rock Art. University of Washington Press, Seattle.

KEYSER J. D. & KNIGHT G. C., 1976. — The Rock Art of Western Montana. Plains Anthropologist, 21 (71), p. 1-12.

KEYSER J.-D. & WHITLEY D.-S., 2000. — A New Ethnographic Reference for Columbia Plateau Rock Art: Documenting A Century of Vision Quest Practices. INORA (International Newsletter on Rock Art) 25, p. 14-20.

LAYTON R., 2001. — Ethnographic Study and Symbolic Analysis. In Handbook of Rock Art Research, David S. Whitley, editor. AltaMira Press, Walnut Creek, California.

LORING M.-J. & LORING L., 1996. — Pictographs and Petroglyphs of the Oregon Country. Parts I and II, 2nd Edition. Institute of Archaeology, University of California, Los Angeles.

MALLERY G., 1893. — Picture Writing of the American Indian. Tenth Annual Report of the Bureau of American Ethnology, 1888-1889, p. 1-882, Washington, D.C.

McCLURE R. H. Jr., 1978. — An Archaeological Survey of Petroglyph and Pictograph Sites in the State of Washington. Olympia, Wash. Evergreen State College.

McCLURE R. H. Jr., 1984. — Rock Art of The Dalles-Deschutes Region: A Chronological Perspective. Unpublished MA Thesis, Department of Anthropology, Washington State University, Pullman.

RAY V. F., 1939. — Cultural Relations in the Plateau of Northwestern America. Fredrick Webb Hodge Anniversary Publication Fund, Publication n° 3.

RAY V. F., 1963. — Primitive Pragmatists: The Modoc Indians of Northern California. University of Washington Press, Seattle, WA.

SPIER L., 1930. — Klamath Ethnography. University of California Publications in American Archaeology and Ethnology, 30 (1), p. 1-338. Berkeley.

SWARTZ B. K. Jr., 1978. — Klamath Basin Petroglyphs. Ballena Press, Sorocco.

TEIT J. A., 1930. — The Salishan Tribes of the Western Plateau. Bureau of American Ethnology Annual Report 45, p. 23-396.

WHITLEY D. S., 2000 The Art of the Shaman: Rock Art of California. University of Utah Press, Salt Lake City.

WHITLEY D. S., LOUBSER J. H. N. & Don HANN D., 2004. — Friends in Low Places: Rock Art and Landscape Symbolism on the Modoc Plateau. In The Figured Landscapes of Rock-Art: Looking at Pictures in Place. Christopher Chippindale and George Nash, editors. Cambridge University Press, Cambridge, United Kingdom.

EXPÉRIENCE DU PECOS : ART ET ARCHÉOLOGIE DU BAS PECOS

La Shumla School, organisation à but non lucratif de Comstock, au Texas (USA), participe chaque octobre au Mois de l'Archéologie en organisant le programme : « Expérience du Pecos : art et archéologie du Bas Pecos ». Shumla invite chaque fois un chercheur en art rupestre de stature internationale pour lui montrer les peintures de style Pecos. Le programme constitue une expérience unique pour les participants. Ils se frottent à certains des plus grands esprits en art rupestre et visitent des sites d'importance mondiale sous la conduite de Carolyn Boyd, experte en art rupestre, directrice et fondatrice de Shumla. Les soirées se concluent avec des conférences sur l'art rupestre et l'archéologie par le Dr. Boyd et le chercheur invité.

Ayant pour but de renforcer les liens avec la terre et le patrimoine culturel, Shumla (www.shumla.org) offre aux

PECOS EXPERIENCE: ART AND ARCHEOLOGY OF THE LOWER PECOS

The Shumla School, a nonprofit organization in Comstock, Texas (USA), celebrates Archeology Month every October through a program called the "Pecos experience: Art and Archeology of the Lower Pecos". Shumla annually invites an internationally recognized rock art researcher to experience pictographs, Lower Pecos style. This program is a unique experience for lay participants to meet and mingle with some of the greatest minds in rock art research and to witness world-class rock art up close and personal with Lower Pecos rock art expert, Dr. Carolyn Boyd, Shumla's Executive Director and founder. Evenings conclude with lectures about rock art and archeology by Dr. Boyd and the guest lecturer.

Committed to connecting people with the land and their cultural heritage, Shumla (www.shumla.org) provides participants la possibilité de descendre à pied dans les canyons et d'y découvrir l'art du Bas Pecos, d'élargir leurs vues sur la signification de cet art et d'apprendre ce qu'est l'archéologie locale, tout en prenant part aux nombreuses autres activités de l'école.

Pecos Experience participants the opportunity to hike down the canyons and explore the art of the Lower Pecos; to expand their vision of the meaning of rock art; and to learn about the local archeology, while participating in many of the other activities of the school.

The Shumla School

117 Sanderson, PO Box 627 Comstock, TX 78837 USA. info@shumla.org

Exemple de l'art du Bas Pecos. Abri du White Shaman. Cliché J. Clottes.

An example of Lower Pecos rock art. The White Shaman shelter. Photo J. Clottes.